

The CHARACTER of a LEADER

9/18 – 22
discovertheword.org

How we handle situations and influence those around us is a measure of our character. And quite often our character is put to the test as we are faced with situations at home, on the job, and even at church. Regardless of the issues, we are commissioned to do what is right—we are to be positive examples for others. Join us this week as we explore key character skills that help us become leaders who impact others for God’s kingdom.

THIS WEEK’S DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

- According to Romans 5:3–4, the development of good character comes on the heels of some challenges. What are those challenges and why are they a necessary part of the journey?
- Read Proverbs 20:5. How can these Old Testament words impact your leadership at work, at home, and at church?
- Read John 15:17. Jesus makes it clear that we are to love one another. Why is this important, especially for leaders?
- In Ephesians 4:15, we learn that we are to speak the truth in love. How can we know if we’re speaking truth in love effectively in our relationships?

CHALLENGE

Spend time this week reflecting on your character and how it aligns with God’s framework for effective leadership. Create a personal mission statement to remind yourself of the calling God has placed on your life to lead others to Him.

COMMIT TO MEMORY

“This I command you, that you love one another.”
(John 15:17 NASB).

PRAYER

Father, I know You have called me to make a difference in my world in the lives of family, friends, and co-workers. Please show me how You want me to do that. Help me in my choices, my words, and my actions to make a positive influence for Jesus and for eternity. Build my character to honor You in every way. Amen.
